Here is the compilation of comments they received on the first round – they should already be incorporated into the revised version. So I would suggest giving her the revised version now.

Thanks!

No comments from her thusfar, I'm afraid – though I've been doing some gentle nudging. Should I just give her this version instead (or are there other comments from other folks on the past version that should be integrated)?

Hi Alison,

A revised version of the draft risk profile for Dechlorane Plus (along with an informational document) has been circulated, with comments due March 30. I'd be happy to help transfer over comments if Tala already started reviewing the first version.

Thanks,
Laura

Thank you for the reminder! I've been off for the week and just getting back into the swing of things. Will nudge Tala; I know Steph gave these to her a while back.

FYI – Tala advised not to have RAD or ORD review the dechlorane plus draft. She and/or David Tobias will take a look.

Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP) Alison will be back to taking lead on the international agenda. Thanks—

No; only David Tobias and I reviewed the last version.
No to ORD; this is not a chemical they are working on, i.e. vs. PFHxS which they are

Hi Tala,

Laura forwarded the draft risk profile for dechlorane plus. Comments would be due back to the working group by Jan. 27.

Given RAD's workload, I wanted to check if it makes sense to ask them to review now. Otherwise, perhaps Laura could reach out to ORD and see if they're able to.

Hi Alison and Stephanie,

As I noted in a previous update for the EAD general, the Stockholm Convention technical committee (POPRC) decided to go ahead with the preparation of a risk profile for Dechlorane Plus. The first draft of the risk profile is attached. I am checking with you to see how we should handle this. I know there are not a lot of resources for reviewing the risk profile, but it can be helpful to get comments in during the intersessional period instead of or in addition to trying to raise concerns during the POPRC meeting.

Also, ORD (Lynn Flowers and others) helped to review the risk profile for PFHxS, so maybe they would be willing to review this one as well.

Thanks, Laura
